ANDREW BRUMBAUGH⁵ (Henry,⁴ Conrad,³ Jacob,² Johannes Henrich¹)

b. July 5, 1830; d. Sept. 3, 1901; m. March 28, 1857, Abigail Pontius; b. July 10, 1828; dau. of Nicholas and Sarah Pontius; d. Feb. 12, 1891.

A native of Blair County, Pennsylvania. At the age of one year he moved with his parents to Randolph Twp., Portage County, Ohio, where his parents cleared a woods and established a farm. He attended grammar school in Atwater, Portage County. One of thirteen children, like his seven brothers and five sisters, he was a member of the German Baptist Brethren Church of which his father was an ordained minister and an elder. Employed in a mill at Macedonia, Summit County, and also in the Bair, Miller and Company Mill at Cario, Stark County, he served as an apprentice. After his marriage, he moved to a farm in Randolph Twp., Portage County, purchased by himself and his brother Ephraim. On this 120 acre farm he lived until the death of his wife, Abigail Pontius. At that time, he turned the farm over to his son Cyrus, who is still owner of the property as this history goes to press. He then began traveling throughout Iowa, Indiana, Ohio, and Pennsylvania, collecting data with the expectation of publishing a Brumbaugh history. Having made his home with his only son, he married Mrs. Sarah (Buchtel) Lesser, March 19, 1896. Near his old home, he bought a small home where he lived until 1900, when his health failed and he then moved to the home of his son, where he died at the old homestead, Sept. 3, 1901.

Conservative in his views, he was a member of the Democratic party until the Lincoln administration in 1861 when he allied himself with the Republican principles. A non-combatant in military views, a total abstainer from the use of stimulants and tobacco, he was a man of sincere and strong convictions. At the time of his death he was serving his church in the capacity of secretary and deacon.

CHAPTER IV

CYRUS BRUMBAUGH⁶ (Andrew,⁵ Henry,⁴ Conrad,³ Jacob,² Johannes Henrich¹)

b. Oct. 31, 1864; m. Nov. 27, 1890, Catharine Ann Kurtz; b. Oct. 21, 1863; d. Feb. 7, 1913; dau. of John and Mary (Bollinger) Kurtz.

Cyrus attended the Randolph District, Portage County, Ohio, school. When married, he remained on the Andrew Brumbaugh farm on which he was born, which farm remains in his possession as this writing goes to press. Not displaying a special liking for school, he devoted his interests to farming.

At the age of twenty-eight he became a member of the German Baptist Brethren Church, identifying himself with the East Nimi-shillen congregation.

Enjoying good health, he has pursued carpentry as a sideline in conjunction with farming. At the ripe age of eighty he found enjoyment in dangerous tasks, such as re-roofing houses, painting, etc. Being of industrious disposition, the sewing of carpet rags has helped him while away long winter hours, when he cannot be active out-of-doors.

Children, 3.

1. ANNA BELLE,⁷ b. Dec. 1, 1891.
2. MARY ETTA,⁷ b. May 1, 1894.

b. May 1, 1894; m. July 5, 1916, Henry J. Myers; b. Sept. 4, 1897; d. Aug. 20, 1940; son of J. Rice and Susie (Weaver) Myers.

Mary owns a small farm a short distance south of Marlboro, Ohio, where she and her son reside.

Children, 7, surname Myers.

THEORY

The first part of the theory is devoted to the study of the properties of the functions $f(x)$ and $g(x)$ which are defined on the interval $[0, 1]$ and satisfy the conditions

$f(0) = 0$, $f(1) = 1$, $g(0) = 0$, $g(1) = 1$, $f(x) + g(x) = 1$ for all $x \in [0, 1]$.

It is shown that the functions $f(x)$ and $g(x)$ are continuous on the interval $[0, 1]$ and that the function $f(x)$ is differentiable at the point $x = 0$ if and only if the function $g(x)$ is differentiable at the point $x = 1$.

It is also shown that the functions $f(x)$ and $g(x)$ are differentiable at the point $x = 0$ if and only if the function $f(x)$ is differentiable at the point $x = 1$.

It is shown that the functions $f(x)$ and $g(x)$ are differentiable at the point $x = 0$ if and only if the function $f(x)$ is differentiable at the point $x = 1$.

It is shown that the functions $f(x)$ and $g(x)$ are differentiable at the point $x = 0$ if and only if the function $f(x)$ is differentiable at the point $x = 1$.

It is shown that the functions $f(x)$ and $g(x)$ are differentiable at the point $x = 0$ if and only if the function $f(x)$ is differentiable at the point $x = 1$.
